THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

E. C. W. Visits the Dear Old Place.

RICHMOND, VA., March 6.—Since my last literary (?) effusion I have made a visit to the old homestead, some 20 miles out in the country and have, liberally speaking, lived over several of the first years of my life. Of course time has changed the dear old place to a great extent, but still there is enough semblance of its former self to recall many happy incidents of the long ago. While musing over the pleasant memories of our childhood days it is very natural that the better will follow the sweet, and while I wandered through wood and field enjoying every step I took on the old farm, that will forever seem sacred to me, I was not forgetful of the fact that it was there that father and mother bade us farewell for an eternal abode in a brighter and better world. Although the saddest of thoughts come over us when we linger on this subject or stand around the graves of those so dear to us, it is a blessed privilege to lay a flower on the little mounds that show where all that is earthly of a kind and loving father and a loving and affectionate mother lie. Thank God for the sweet privilege, for each time I visit the dear spot I am more and more convinced of their exceeding goodness as well as the severity of the loss sustained when their sweet spirits took their flight for the world above. Yes, things have changed wonderfully since I last visited the old homestead and it really causes a gloom to come over me to note that the changes are not for the better. The house has yielded to the wear and tear of ages, the fences that my father took so much pride in keeping up, have long since gone and the soil, which was then fertile, shows a decided lack of depth. All of this deterioration has taken place in a decade and I really fear that before another shall have passed there will be nothing left to designate the spot where our once happy family lived so long.

I met many old friends on my visit to the old place, but while I was, I am proud to say, not wholly forgotten, I had to make myself known to the majority of them. Leaving there when a child of barely 15 summers, it is not strange that few recognized me, but still I felt like a stranger in a strange land and shortened my stay on that account.

On my way back to Richmond from the old neighborhood, I visited the home of the great and good Henry Clay. "The Millboy of the Slashes," as he was called, spent the first years of his life on a farm only a short distance from Ashland and the large oak tree between his home and the mill he used to go to and where he would rest himself and his weary beast of burden, still stands and bears the name of the great statesman which he carved in it many years ago. There is nothing peculiar about the farm, nor ostentatious about the house, but the fact that it is Clay's old home causes many a desire to see it.

While my visit to the country was pleasant the fearful roads took away some of the enjoyableness of it and I was glad when I again caught sight of the church towers on returning that Richmond is noted for. The trip was necessarily made on horseback and Belle, as I was informed that my horse was named, was well-nigh worn-out and I dare say the rider was a little worse for wear as well. However, I am glad I went and the scenes, which I was rapidly forgetting, have been familiarized and I am not sorry of it.

Richmond has had a heavy snow and the merry jingle of sleigh bells has been a familiar sound since it fell. Many of the young folks have enjoyed that pleasant sport, in fact it was their first opportunity since 1888, and they took advantage from early morn till late at night and

"Sat beneath the catalpas
And felt each other's hands."

Franklin and Grace streets, which are not torn up with street contracts, and which, by the way, are the fashionable streets in Richmond, were the popular resorts for the sleighing public and they presented a happy scene indeed. The handsomely painted cutters, drawn by blooded and fiery steeds and occupied by blushing maidens, with cheeks aglow to a mouth watering extent, was a joyful and thrilling sight and many a gray-headed, infirm man watched with wistful eyes the youth and buoyancy of the city and no doubt wished for a return of the happy days when he was a thing of the present instead of the past.

I think I have told everything of interest incident to my trip and I fear many things that have proved uninteresting to many of your readers, hence with this so called epistle my correspondence will cease for a while. I am exceedingly grateful to those who have followed my peregrinations and to those who have read with interest my jottings. I am equally thankful. I would like to reward them all, but for the present can only wish them the good fortune of better literature in the future.

I could not wish, nor do I hope for a more pleasant time than this visit to my sister's family has been. With every wish and thought gratified, a sojourn with a sister who was and is both sister and mother to me and with surroundings unspeakably pleasant, I wonder not that in later years I shall look back on these two weeks as an oasis in my life.

LANCASTER, GARRAHD COUNTY.

—On Tuesday evening, the 21st inst., a complete exposure of the mysterious rites and ceremonies of the Ancient Order of Heralds, including the grips, signs, and secrets of the lodge, and the ceremony of initiation will be rendered at the Opera House in this place, by a well-titled class of home talent. The proceeds derived from this entertainment will be appropriated to the management of the Opera House. Give 'em a lift.

—The Woody Brothers, of Chicago, have given eminent satisfaction to the people of Lancaster by their excellent concerts and musical instruction imparted to their pupils. They have successfully and satisfactorily taught a large class, at the Presbyterian church, composed of members of the various religious denominations and have received as they have deserved the commendation of the public generally. Their system of instruction is the best known to the musical profession, and the only one that ought to be taught. They are doing a grand work for the people and deserve encouragement wherever they go. The closing concert was well attended and in every way successful.

Senator Peller, the successor of Senator Ingalls, has been to Washington and called on the Secretary of the Senate. The first question he asked was when he could draw his pay. Senator Peller, no doubt in common with the majority of those seeking office, vowed that he was prompted solely by motives of patriotism and that the salary he was to draw was a matter of minor importance in his aspirations for senatorial honors. But alas for the frailties of humanity.

Senator Peller has been found to possess the instincts of the average place-seeker, and the scent of the flesh pots has lured him to a confession of his desire to get his paw upon his share of the filthy here awaiting his senatorial check. Patriotism plays a very insignificant part in the life of the politician of this day and generation, and Senator Peller is no exception to the general rule.

Mr. J. J. Whiteker, of Harrison county, has read every copy of the con. con. reports that has been acted upon by the convention and still lives. This only shows that Mr. Whiteker has a fine constitution and is a gentleman of bone and nerve, for he could not possibly have accomplished this extraordinary feat if he had been required to do anything else. Possibly Mr. Whiteker is somewhat like an old gentleman by the name of Brown, who resided in Lancaster many years ago. He was a subscriber to the Louisville Weekly Journal, edited by Geo. D. Prentice. The paper was received every Saturday and the old gentleman commenced with the name of the paper and read every word from beginning to end, terms, advertisements and all before he stopped. He kept this up until his death, which occurred prior to the consolidation of the Journal and Courier. If Mr. W. is any wiser after his wonderful performances he is certainly an extraordinary man and the con. con. should compliment him with a vote of thanks.

A society has been formed in New York for the examination of brain. Dr. Lady has been elected president and associated with him are Drs. Osler, Milder, Popper, Spitzka and others. Letters have been written by the society to a large number of prominent politicians, statesmen and ministers, including Phillips Brooks, Channsey M. Itepow, James G. Blaine and Dr. R. Herbert Newton, requesting permission to examine their brains and quite a large number have given their consent. It is said that the brains of all great men and women are irregularly formed, little hills and valleys showing themselves on the surface and these irregularities are to be studied as a phenologist studies lumps. Why this examination should be confined to great men is not understood. If any good is to come of experiments of this sort, why not select some of the scoundrels who infest society, and see what developments can be made in that direction. It might be well also to examine the brains of some of those who imagine they are great men, but whose conduct develops more egotism and impudence than genius or talent. Whether any of the so-called great men of Kentucky have been written to for permission to examine their brains after the termination of their windy pilgrimage upon earth, has not been made known to the public.

Edwin S. Van Zile is the author of a poem on the death of the devil. He has written a graphic obituary of his satanic majesty, but fails to inform us how he received information of his death. Figuratively speaking he is said to be going about earth, as a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour, but this does not deter men from doing wrong. If he could be permitted to make an actual visit to earth he would find an abundance of material upon which to exercise his talents, and rats would not scamper to their holes with greater rapidity at the sight of an infuriated terrier than some of the sinners who have no respect for God, man, or the devil. It would be in the interest of good morals if he should make his appearance at no distant day. Now let him come!

Mr. McElroy, of Bowling Green, says if nominated by a convention he would run even for constable. Accompanying Mr. McElroy, would you not agree to work for nothing and throw in a few chickens of tobacco?

A committee, selected by the advisory board, appointed to look after the agricultural interests of the State is visiting the various counties and delivering lectures, the object of which is to enlighten the farmers in regard to the proper mode of cultivating their farms. Prof. Meyers and Gorman will impart information that will enable any farmer to tell the difference between a pumpkin and squash and between a potato and a turnip. This will be done at the expense of the State and regardless of cost. The lectures will bristle with statistics upon "Insects," "Insecticide," &c., all of which will be as clear as mud to most of those who have been taught to farm in the good old-fashioned way.

Mr. Wallerson on Cleveland and Silver.

Two points of disturbance are being advanced to mar our counsels. One of these relates to the renomination of Mr. Cleveland, the other to the adoption of some, as yet undecided, but altered, policy as to silver coinage. Touching the first of these, the reflection ought to lessen the anxiety of those opposed to it that it depends largely, if not wholly, upon the action of the Democrats of New York. If New York comes to the next National Democratic Convention requesting the renomination of Mr. Cleveland, or seriously divided upon it, his renomination would be suicidal. In that event the party will be compelled to quit New York altogether, and to seek for a nomination elsewhere; for nothing could be more absurd than the suggestion of setting aside Mr. Cleveland and substituting Gov. Hill or any other New Yorker in his place. When we leave Cleveland we leave New York. Touching silver, this is to be said: All of us in the West and South are bimetalists; all of us are friends of the double standard of the single standard, all of us believe that the expanding needs of the country require, and that the country will assimilate a still larger circulating medium, and look largely to silver as the basis of the currency which is to succeed the retiring national bank notes. But as to conclusions, this is the extent of it. In the matter of legislative detail, as the best fiscal means of reaching these ends, there is no agreement, because there has been no adequate discussion, and there is no general knowledge. The people of the West and South are sorely distressed and perplexed. Twenty-five years of class distinction in the government have done their perfect work. Excessive and unjust taxation is the original, the fruitful source of all our ills. We have expended 10 years getting together on this paramount issue. At last we are together. We stand upon high, upon solid ground. Victory, if not within our grasp, is yet within our sight. Is it possible that any sane democrat anywhere can believe it good, or wise, to abandon this position of advantage, reached after so much travail and outlay, and to advance through a morass of uncertainty upon the rille pits and masked batteries of an enemy, who laughs in his sleeve as he waits to welcome us with bloody hands to hospitable graves?

WAYNESBURG.

—Mrs. F. P. Curtis, of Somerset, is visiting relatives here.—J. R. Schoeller shipped a car-load of poplar lumber to Nicholasville last week.—J. L. Kountz says a stranger came to his house Feb. 4, who has not much notion of leaving soon. It's a bonanza big boy. Mrs. E. S. Gooch, formerly of this place, but now of Somerset, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Padgett, here. Al Hughes, who went to Barboursville about a year ago, moved his family back to his old home here last week. J. H. Caldwell purchased a tract of land containing 30 acres, lying just west of town, of Gooch & Gooch, for $200 an acre last week. Elder A. J. Pike failed to fill his appointment here last Saturday and Sunday on the account of high water. W. H. Hicks, sawyer at J. R. Schoeller's mill, went to his home at Berketsville, O., Sunday to see his mother, who is not expected to live.

—The Kansas legislature has only the appropriation bills to pass before reaching final adjournment. The granger element has been greatly disappointed in failing to secure legislation in behalf of its favorite reform measures, every one of which the Senate effectually scotched.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Circuit court began here Monday. —Mize, for killing John Mink, was indicted and admitted to bail of $1,500.

—A telegram from Denver announces Sam Barlett's condition as yet not out of danger, but the chances are in his favor.

—A little child of George Brown, of Glades, was burned to death one day this week by its clothing catching fire.

—Smith Thewett has caught within the last month from one hole under a cliff with a steel trap 2 possums, 2 foxes, 3 skunks and 13 coons.

—The trial of Emmett Spodgrass, for killing his brother, was called Wednesday. Four jurymen were secured and the court is still engaged in getting a jury.

—Shipments of the conglomerate stone have begun from Sinks to the Watts Iron Works, at Middlesboro. This stone is used for making fire brick and in reducing iron from the ore.

—Burke Farris has established a "possum ranch" near Brothel and will by next fall have almost 500 of the animals for sale. He has been promised good prices for all he can raise.

—Rev. H. C. Payne, of Elizabethtown, who has been engaged to preach at the Christian church here, has arrived, accompanied by his wife, and has taken rooms at the Newcomb Hotel.

—Mr. John M. Williams, who has been train dispatching at Middlesboro for some months, has been promoted to a similar position at Montgomery, Ala., where he will begin work April 1st on the 24 track. John is rapidly rising in the business and will make his mark.

—Considerable sickness prevails here at present. Little Tom Brown, who has been very low with pneumonia, is improving. Mrs. Will Davis is yet very low with pneumonia; Charlie Davis is some better; Mrs. Belle Burnside is on the sick list. Several are affected with the grippe.

—Sunday night a misguided night operator, with more feet than brains, perpetrated a cruel hoax by sending a bogus "special" over the wires announcing a powder explosion at Middlesboro, in which 80 people were killed, including Gov. McCreary and others. It was some hours before it was discovered to be a hoax. It would be poor fun to the perpetrator should he be discovered.

—Mr. W. H. Carrier, of London, was here Sunday. Mr. T. N. Roberts, of Danville, was among old friends here during the week. Mr. J. W. Stephens, night operator at Livingston, paid us a visit Monday. John T. Barbee spoke on prohibition here Monday. Miss Lucille Joplin has returned from Paris. Messrs. O. H. Waddle, of Somerset, J. B. Fish, Pineville, and E. F. Bobbitt are the visiting attorneys at our court. Mr. W. H. Cox is ill with erysipelas. Mr. J. W. Gentry is on the sick list.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Joseph Lambert and Kate Dawson, of Louisville, renounced the Catholic faith and joined a Protestant church so as to more easily be married, their intention being to elope.

—Mr. Max Manes, the steady and clever young manager of the Louisville Store at this place, was married at Mr. J. H. Hayes', in Louisville, Wednesday night, to Miss Bertha Atscher, a pretty and attractive damsel not long from Germany. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi A. Moses, and yesterday the couple arrived and took rooms at the Portman House. A long and happy life to Mr. Manes and his bonnie bride.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—Mrs. P. P. Ballard, an aunt of Mrs. W. F. Dillon and Mrs. Joe Coffey, died at Richmond, aged 83.

—Cattle of the best grades are in demand in Cincinnati at 51; good to choice butchers 4 to 41; feeders 21 to 41; hogs are active with best at 3.95; sheep are strong at 31 to 31.

—Commodore Caldwell, of Fishing Creek, sold to Owens, of Boyle, a yoke of 3,655-pound oxen, raised by him, at 3.35. They were the largest that ever came out of the Waynesburg hills.

—A. W. Smith was notified Thursday that his mare, Ella Hopkins, now at Terra Haute, to be bred to Astell, had dropped a handsome filly colt, a full sister to Geneva S., 2:19.—Danville Advocate.

The passenger department of the O. & C. Mr. and Mrs. SIM WORTHAM are spending a few days in Lancaster. Mrs. B. K. WEATHERS and Mrs. LOUISE W. WHEATON went to Danville, Wednesday. Miss BESSIE BUCHANAN, of Junction City, is the guest of Miss GEORGIA WHY. Mrs. BETTIE M. KISSER is visiting the family of Dr. Ed. Albion, at Hustonville. Mr. C. S. NORD, the head of the great coal mining firm at Grays, was here this week. Miss BETTIE PAVON, returned Wednesday from a protracted visit to Louisville. Dr. W. C. FRANKS, of Cincinnati, is visiting the family of his father, Mr. J. W. Embards. Mr. W. S. HURON, the starting Junior City merchant, is in the embrace of a severe case of grippe. Mrs. M. L. ISORAM, of Erie, Penn., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hamilton, of Rowland. Capt. JOHN HARRIS, of the Cumberland Valley Branch, has been on a visit to his brother, Mr. Frank Harris. Mr. TOM LARLEY and his brother, Johnny, went to Louisville Thursday to visit their father, Mr. L. M. Larley. Mr. RICHARD WATKINS has returned from Somerset, where he has just completed a large contract for plastering. Miss KATE HAY is spending with her usual beauty and grace over Mrs. L. E. KIRK'S millinery store during her absence. Mrs. M. F. ECKIN, accompanied by Miss Laura Ellis, went to Indianapolis Wednesday to play in a supply of millinery. Mr. E. C. WALTON returned yesterday morning from a delightful visit to Virginia and relieved the editor, who was very ill, but still at his post. Mrs. E. T. BOSTON and Misses Lettie and Thelma Darling, who have been spending the winter with Mrs. J. T. Gono, in Dallas, Texas, have returned home. Mr. JAMES MARET writes that he has a private dispatch from Denver saying that Col. Sam M. Burrell is much better. Thousands of friends are praying for his recovery. Mrs. GEORGE W. TRIBBLE and Miss Mattie Tribble brought the old gentleman in Wednesday and had a good likeness made of him for our gallery of octogenarians. Mrs. L. M. BIRCH has received information from her family that Miss Mabel Graves, of Missouri, who visited here last summer, is very low with consumption, and that her recovery is doubtful. Mr. J. E. MASON returned yesterday from Bonneville, where he has been on a vacation a month or more. During his furlough he was made the recipient of a fine boy, a present from Mrs. Smith.

CITY AND VICINITY.

A lot of shingles for sale. J. B. Foster. Highest market price paid for eggs. Joe S. Jones. All kinds of fresh vegetables, fruits, etc., just received at R. Zimmerman's. CABBAGE, CUCUMBERS, Sweet Potatoes and Pickles just received at A. A. Warren's. 14 pounds granulated sugar for $1. Arbuckle's coffee 25 cents per pound, at the Cash Bargain Store. The well-known Louisville batter, Mr. R. B. Googlingan, sends to his numerous customers here a unique announcement of his spring opening enclosed in a peanut shell.

THE letter from E. C. Walton, which appears in this issue, was intended for last. It was mailed on the 6th and got here on the 10th. A beautiful mail service indeed is Bro. Wannamaker giving us. He ought to return to the "cheap clothing" business. He understands it better. As entertainment will be given at the Opera House within a few days by the pupils of Stanford Female College, under the auspices of the Alumnae Association. There will be music and songs, recitations by some of the young ladies and beautiful drills and intricate marches by the three sections in the calisthenic and gymnastic class. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the improvement of the college grounds. We trust that the public will extend a liberal patronage to the object in view, as improved premises not only add to the real beauty of a school location, but is largely a true indication of the character of the institution. There should be but one opinion as to the object of the entertainment. It will be richly worth the price of admission.

ANOTHER barrel of good k ront just received at W. H. Brady's.

FRESH lot of Zeigler Bros. shoes at S. H. Shanks'.

FRESH lot of salt and seed potatoes at F. B. Foster's.

FRESH lot of salt, lime and cement at F. B. Foster's.

Just received our spring stock of gentlemen's fine shoes from Emerson's Sons. Sovereign & Son.

Go and examine the line of clothing for men, boys and children, just received. Joe S. Jones.

You can get 40 cents per pound for your live geese fowls, opposite Portman House. Joe S. Jones.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL'S foreman returns thanks to Messrs. F. K. Tribble and A. G. T. Smith for a useful present.

THREE cuts of freight on jumped the track at Gravel switch Tuesday and one being overturned, was wrecked. The damage by delay of trains was not great.

This office has just tiled an order for jack bills from Daleville, Miss., sent by Mr. John L. McKeith for C. W. Cochran. No pen-up Utica confines the powers of this print shop.

It was our intention to get out a double number this time, but continued illness rendered it impossible to prepare the matter. We hope not to be in this condition always and when we get out of it, look out for a big spread.

JOE SEYBANCE, Jr., has been appointed agent for Lincoln county for the Walter A. Wood machines and will keep a full stock of machines, repairs and tools, in the basement of the extension to Sovereign & Son's store, now being put up.

To Housewives. Our business manager will be at Danville Monday and will be glad to wait on those who wish to advise their horses for the present season. There is no better advertising medium than the L. J. and particularly does it pay to advertise horses in its columns.

THE Old Fellows' based the deal with Mr. S. H. Shanks for the Commercial Hotel property this week for $3,500, $1,000 paid to cash, balance in six long time as they want. The thanks of every progressive citizen is due the originator of the scheme, Mr. A. C. Sine, for having a fine brick block take the place of a dilapidated wooden one.

WE were unable to even be represented at the closing concert of the Woolly Bros' Convention, but we are told that it was a musical treat of a surprising nature. The amount of work done in five short days was fully demonstrated in the excellent manner in which the class acquitted itself and was thoroughly enjoyed by a house full of people. The members of the class have formed a permanent organization and if they can increase their number to 100 will secure Mr. M. P. Woody to give them another course. All admit that he is the finest teacher of vocal music ever in this section.

THE PATRIOT.—Sidney Lewis, who murdered his father, Judge Wilson Lewis, in Harlan and died, was lodged in jail here Tuesday by Detective R. S. Simpson and Jailer Armstrong, of Rogersville, Tenn., where he was captured about two ago. Mr. Simpson said that he had seen a description of Lewis in the Courier Journal and when he saw him hanging around town one afternoon he spotted him as the man wanted. He could see by the shape of it outlined on his clothing that he had a large pistol on, and he did not proceed at once to take him in charge. Lewis was drinking, so he got a man to fall in with him and propose to treat. The suspect readily assented and the performance was humorously repeated. Finally when Lewis had gotten pretty well under way and was becoming quite communicative, the detective stepped up and asked all hands to join him in a drink. Lewis came up with the rest and while standing facing the bar counter, two men walked up behind and pinioned him. An examination of his papers showed who he was and Lewis was not slow in telling the whole story. It will be remembered that he killed his father by shooting him from behind, as the old man was carrying an armful of fodder, but Lewis says he shot to save his life as his father was pursuing him with an ax. He is a great, big, strapping fellow, about 21 years old, with little or no education and apparently not very bright. He does not seem to feel any remorse over the murder, but takes things very easily. He had over $75 on his person when arrested and the 44 calibre pistol with which he had killed the old man. It was a six shooter and but one ball was in it, the others having been fired into the body of his victim. He says the balls were so large he had been unable to procure any to fit it. The only feeling he showed at all was when the weapon was taken from him, and then he remarked, "Take it away, I never want to see it again." Mr. Simpson said he expected a reward of $1,000 for the man, but the governor had only offered $200, hardly enough to pay the expenses of bringing him here.

All kinds of field and garden seeds at J. B. Foster's.

Dr. WARREN'S Health Corset $1 at the Cash Bargain Store. Joe S. Jones.

WOOD BRIDGE JELLY COAL at 13 cents on car and 14 cents delivered. B. K. & W. H. Wearen.

JUDGE VANDON has more cases of importance on the docket than usual—105 in all. He held court Monday and Tuesday and will hold forth to-day, to-morrow, Monday and Tuesday.

THE Water Works Company has bought of William Welsh 20 acres of his land, including Logan's Fort, the Buffalo and other springs for $5,000. The city has promised to open a street to the works and this will give the company many eligible lots for building purposes. A portion of the land is a bank of solid gravel, worth many hundred dollars. Mr. Welsh takes $1,000 of the purchase price in stock and taking everything into consideration it is the best deal the company could have made. Dr. Peyton, one of the largest stockholders, is taking great interest in the matter and is satisfied that he has an extra good thing. Work on the works will begin in two weeks.

NEARLY 200 solutions have been sent in to the John Bright Bible puzzle and the next issue will tell who wins the prize, together with the answer and the references pertaining to it. Since our last these have been sent in answers. Mrs. E. B. HARRISON, Crab Orchard. Mrs. W. O. Park, Middleboro. O. P. King, Crab Orchard. Mrs. J. M. Pollard, Flatwood. George H. Patton, Crab Orchard. J. C. King, Crab Orchard. Miss L. M. Grant, Lancaster. Miss Maggie Livingston, Crab Orchard.

Mrs. Kate Kirkpatrick, Maywood. Mr. G. A. Traylor, Hubble.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Owing to sickness of Rev. R. H. Child, there will be no services at Walnut Flat to-morrow night, but there will be services at 11 o'clock on Sunday.

—Three revivals are in progress at Mayville. At the First Presbyterian church there were 50 additions; at the Christian church 12, and the M. E. church, North, 17 additions.

—Rev. W. N. Sheppard will preach in the Old Fellows' Hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock and each Friday afternoon during Lent. He is laboring hard to establish an Episcopal church here and we hope he will yet be rewarded with success.

—A lot 39x90 feet, corner 4th and Hume, Cincinnati, was bought by the Methodist book concern Tuesday for $90,000. The lot was originally 100x200 and sold in 1779 for $4. In 1801 it brought $80, in 1804, $300, and in 1892 $11,000 and subdivided it now brings $2,300 per front foot.

—Mr. C. C. Choe, of Lexington, is negotiating for the purchase of the Daughters College property. Nothing definite, however, is yet known upon this subject, but we are reliably informed and happy to state that in case the sale is effected, Prof. John Augustus Williams will retain the presidency of the institution he has so long and able conducted and will have the choosing of his subordinates. —Harrodsburg Democrat.

—A letter to Mr. J. C. Cowan, of this city, from his sister, Mrs. Geo. D. Barnes, from Scotland, conveys the intelligence that the members of the family are enjoying tolerably good health. Mr. Barnes is holding some good meetings, but has many difficulties to contend with in his preaching, as the followers of the established church throw every obstacle imaginable in his way. They even started the story that Mrs. Barnes had recently died of exposure and neglect. They sent out reports ahead of him to the towns he contemplates visiting.—Danville Advocate.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—J. E. Farris sold to A. G. Hoffman a brood mare for $75. —Fon SALE.—Sewers and lands. W. W. Hay, Bryantsville. —R. B. and E. P. Woods sold to Jno. Peoples a pair of mules for $250. —Geo. D. Wearen bought a car-load of corn of S. J. Emory at $3 per bbl. —C. A. Redd has for sale 18 long yearling mules and 5 long 2-year-olds. —Richard Robinson sold to W. L. Herrin, a lot of 3-year-old cattle at 25 cents.

—Spire J. S. Murphy tells us that the fruit crop is not damaged and that the prospects for a fine wheat crop is extremely good. —Mrs. Maggie Carpenter's sale of fine stock and other personalty occurs at her place near Hustonville to-day. Don't fail to attend. —The government crop statistics show that there are about 512,000,000 bushels of corn of last year's crop still held by the farmers and 112,000,000 bushels of wheat. —M. S. Raughman advertises two fine stallions and five jacks this season. Smith never handles anything but good ones and you won't go wrong if you patronize him. —To FARM.—A handsomely bred and nice three-year-old stallion, with a Great Wilkes-Mambrino patchen cross on top, which has produced the great Axtell, 2:12, Allerton, 2:13, &c. C. L. Crow, McKimpy. —D. M. & A. S. Bowman, of Burgin, advertise what they claim is the finest horse south of the Kentucky river, Bellevue Wilkes 13944, son of the great Red Wilkes and a noble horse in every respect. See ad. on third page.
